THE SCIENCE OF READING

And What This Means For New York Public Librarians

---

Thursday, April 17th
2:00-3:30
Online

The Science of Reading has been a hot topic in education, but what does it mean for public libraries? Literacy Consultant, Lu Benke, PhD, will be joining us for an online informational workshop exploring the key principles of the Science of Reading. We will address the opportunities and challenges it brings to the work of Youth Services Librarians.
